A Message from LPS

Recently there have been lots of issues with pedestrian safety and vehicles not yielding to pedestrians throughout the city. For the month of March, members of TRU, the CPO's and the Alberta Sheriffs are going to do a project focusing on pedestrian safety in and around schools in Lethbridge.

One of the key issues we've observed is pedestrians, especially students, not being fully aware of their surroundings before crossing streets. This lack of attention poses a significant safety risk, as distracted pedestrians may not notice oncoming vehicles, even in designated crosswalks. Additionally, vehicles traveling through school and playground zones are often not as vigilant as they should be, leading to unsafe conditions for children and other pedestrians. Speeding and distracted driving are prevalent problems in these areas, further exacerbating the danger.

Objectives of the project is to educate pedestrians (including their parents) on safe crossing practices, as well as enforcing these areas to deter nuisance type behaviours (vehicles parked across crosswalks or blocking driveways) and high risk driving behaviours (speeding, distracted driving, unsafe u-turns, failing to yield to pedestrians).

To help pedestrians cross safer, it's crucial that we encourage a greater level of awareness and responsibility. Pedestrians should be reminded to:

1. Always use designated crosswalks when available and wait for a clear signal, if applicable.
2. Make eye contact with drivers before crossing, ensuring they are seen and acknowledged.
3. Avoid distractions such as mobile phones or headphones when crossing the street.
4. Look both ways even when at a crosswalk, as some drivers may not stop or may be unaware of the pedestrian right-of-way.
